

Follow the clues and explore Market Square!

Submit your answers to downtown@sanantonio.gov by November 30th. The highest scoring participants will be entered into a drawing to win over $200 worth of gift cards to a variety of downtown restaurants and locations. Winners will be notified by email as soon as December 1st.

Name: _____

Email: _____

1. I'm a San Antonio artist and I created two murals adjacent to and facing Market Square and one mural in Market Square. My work is in the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, DC. Who am I? _____
2. I'm a tile mural situated at the end of Concho Plaza depicting Mariachi singers, Chapa Drugstore, and the Nacional Theater. What is my name? _____
3. I'm a Market Square restaurant that was established over 75 years ago. _____
4. I'm a round and fluffy pan dulce (sweet bread) and I come in a variety of colors – pink, yellow, brown, or white. _____
5. I'm a pan dulce (sweet bread) with a filling of pumpkin, sweet potato, apple, or cream. _____
6. I'm round and made in Mexico of volcanic rock. I'm used to grind chiles and spices. You can purchase me at various shops in El Mercado. _____
7. You can buy colorful embroidered Mexican dresses and other fine clothes in this shop. My name translated into English is The Little Towns. _____
8. You must cross this street to get from El Mercado Building to the Farmers Market Building. _____
9. You can purchase white gowns worn by infants and children in Catholic ceremonies in this Farmers Market Shop. _____

10. I was a famous radio and television personality known as The Voice of San Antonio. I started my career as a news reader for WOAI. My family and I are recognized with a plaque on Concho Plaza.

11. Look up and you'll see me in the plazas. I'm brightly colored and made from cut paper.

12. I am a traditional men's summer shirt, commonly worn in Mexico and also known as Camisa de Yucatán.

!!BONUS 5 POINTS!! Share a selfie from anywhere in Market Square with the hashtag #ExploreDTSA. You may also be featured on Downtown SA's social media pages.

Shared on: Facebook Instagram Twitter

Account name: _____ Date shared: _____

